Cumming is Coming Up

I've called Cumming home for over a decade now, and have had a front-row seat to the evolution of this suburban community. From pastures to promenades, today there are so many choices for fun things to do. Shopping at The Cumming City Center comes with outdoor concert fun and brick oven pizza for dinner from Crooked Culture Brewing (read what to order on page 11). A day at Mary Alice Park means you can hit up Canes on the way home, or change for a dinner on the patio at YAVA Brewhouse (also on page 11). Catch a show at FoCAL or peruse local works at The Cumming Arts Center. For anyone avoiding leaving the perimeter, let me just tell you: you're missing out.

One thing you can't miss, starting on page 16, are the businesses that this community nominated and voted as the Best of Cumming. From doctors and wellness services to home improvement professionals, restaurants and more, these are the people you trust with the things that matter most, again and again. Meet the entire 2026 class at atlantabestmedia.com, and get ready to start exploring!

I am also excited to introduce you to Catherine Keyser, Fine Arts Specialist for Forsyth County Schools. She's passionate about delivering students a plethora of creative opportunities while they're in school that prep them for the real world in unique ways. Read more on page 15.

What Cumming favorites do you use to lure your ITP friends OTP? I'd love to hear about them. Enjoy all of the fun things to do over the next few pages—and there's even more online. Let's dive in together to explore everything this booming city has to offer!

my Food Faves

Tried and true or new to you

YAVA Brewhouse is Cumming's newest spot for great beer, food and fellowship (don't miss the life-size chess board on the patio). Amidst a menu of favorites like shrimp ceviche, steak frites and the best key lime pie we've ever tasted, don't miss their spin on Deviled Eggs. A classic base gets topped with charred pepperoni vinaigrette and pickled cherry peppers. Sipping the Constant Companion Kolsch offers a crisp and quietly refreshing pair. 3001 Market Place Blvd., yava-us.com

The perfect weekend pitstop is now open at the Cumming City Center. Offering an elevated wine bar experience, Cindyrella's Wine Bar serves up sultry snacks to pair with wines from near and far. Among your sophisticated smorgasbord, don't miss The Midnight, a dish of crispy tostones topped with spicy crab, ginger mayo and sriracha. Pair it with a chardonnay or Chablis. It's the perfect sampler before Thursday's live music starts at 6pm. 450 Vision Dr., @cindyrellas_wine_bar

3

Aguachile Mazatlan is the king of ceviche at Santa Maria. It offers mouth-watering mahi mahi unabashedly swimming in a jus of jalapeno, cilantro and roasted leche de tigre. Served with delicate slices of creamy avocado, crisp cucumber, vibrant cherry tomatoes and sweet drops of smoky fish sauce, it's the kind of meal where you have to remind yourself it's not polite to lick the bowl. (But we wouldn't judge, if you did). 410 Vision Dr., santamaria-restaurant.com

THE PERFECT PAIR AT CROOKED CULTURE BREWING

Crooked Culture Brewing serves up their GABF (Great American Beer Festivals) silver medal brew, Today Was A G'Day hazy IPA, all summer long. It pairs perfectly with the Hot Honey Pizza from their on-site food truck, Dominic's Wood-Fired (and music bingo if you're there on the right night). They offer over a dozen house brews, sours and seltzers on tap every day (and they're as much fun to say as they are delicious to drink). 421 Vision Dr., crookedculturebrewing.com

“Today Was A G'Day was here from day one, but as a hazy IPA, we thought a bit more umph would take it to the next level. This beer has always been a showcase of Nelson Sauvin hops, which have aromas and flavors of sweet New Zealand white wine and citrus. Some people say it tastes like gooseberry... what is gooseberry, anyway?”

— Patrick Leonard, owner/founder/brewer at Crooked Culture Brewing

PROFILE

Catherine Keyser

ARTS EDUCATOR • MOUNTAIN BIKER • COMMUNITY ADVOCATE

By Jennifer Colosimo

As a student in Forsyth County, the stage is yours. From elementary to high school, kids have the chance to ignite new interests, develop their talents and find their voice through a wide range of arts education programs. It's a life-changing opportunity that Fine Arts Specialist Catherine Keyser takes seriously in her pursuit to help students find a creative outlet while preparing them for what comes next.

Forsyth County Schools has also created a venue for students to showcase their artistic expression. The FoCAL (Forsyth County Arts and Learning Center) is an 81,000-square-foot performing arts and education facility featuring a state-of-the-art main theater, a 250-seat black box theater, banquet and meeting spaces and student art galleries. It houses both school-produced and community events and provides a gallery space for children as young as kindergarten to show off their work. Serving both school and community audiences, FoCAL provides opportunities for students of all ages.

Why is arts education important for academic development?

Catherine Keyser: Participating in and experiencing the arts has a profound, scientific connection to the brain. The processes it takes to create a piece of art and explain it, that's a form of literacy. Reading music supports language acquisition and bridges cultural connections. Theatre and dance are some of the oldest forms of communication.

What are you most proud of since stepping into your role?

CK: I love that we have an increased presence of fine arts in the community through our students. We've worked hard to tell our story. Our teachers are amazing at what they do and the way that they connect with their kids. I'm so proud of the work we've accomplished to equip teachers to empower their students creatively.

How do Forsyth County arts programs uniquely prepare students for the real world?

CK: Once students get to high school, we offer arts pathways and students can earn a state diploma seal. This tells colleges and employers that they're ready to pursue further studies in college or go straight into a career in the arts if they want to. Over 300 seniors earned an arts seal this past school year. This is important because there are so many career opportunities that exist outside of the traditional 4-year college.

No matter what field you choose, creative arts are connected to the real world. Are you going into marketing? Your product needs to appeal to an audience—that's art. Practice in theatre teaches you to read a crowd, control your facial expressions and support a team—all great preparation to be a lawyer, journalist or even a politician. The mastery and technical dexterity involved in creating music ties in beautifully with any career. Overall, the arts teach resilience, perseverance, communication and collaborative thinking—skills that will carry you through life.
