From the Editor

A Night Out in Midtown

A night out in Midtown always feels like something special. For example, my husband and I lined up a babysitter for the chance to sip smoky Knob Creek Single Barrel alongside citrus-cured hamachi and brown butter roasted corn raviolo from Chef Henry Tapia. Inside Epicurean Atlanta's culinary theater we watched as each dish was thoughtfully prepared and listened to insider stories about how the bourbon is crafted. Read more on page 7. The daytime has a lot of potential, too. I grabbed a girlfriend to sample the elevated lunch experience at Brasserie Margot inside The Four Seasons Atlanta—quintessential Midtown—and with so much to love (the decor, the oysters, the Margot Burger, the Freezer Door Martini), I'll definitely be going back.

Speaking of things we keep going back to, starting on page 10, we've got the businesses that you and your community nominated and voted as the Best of Midtown. From doctors and wellness services to home improvement professionals, restaurants and more, these are the people you trust with the things that matter most, again and again. Meet the entire 2026 class at atlantabestmedia.com, and get ready to start exploring!

In this issue, I love getting to introduce you to Joe McGinnis, owner of Don Cosmé tequila. He tells the story of a brand that has inspired culture and community across the city—and shares one of his favorite recipes on page 15.

Have you discovered something special to do in Midtown? I'd love to hear about it. Enjoy all of the fun things to do over the next few pages—and there's even more online. Let's dive in together to everything Midtown has to offer!

BRASSERIE MARGOT INTRODUCES AN ELEVATED EXPRESS LUNCH

“The express lunch was designed to refine the midday dining experience, without slowing it down. In France, even lunch is meant to feel intentional, a moment to pause and enjoy something wonderful. We've created a format that allows guests to quickly move through a full expression of the kitchen, with something from the grill, something light to begin and something sweet to finish, without feeling rushed. It's about bringing a sense of balance and enjoyment to the middle of a busy day.”

— Christophe Truchet, Chef de Cuisine

PROFILE

Joe McGinnis

TEQUILA GUY • ENTREPRENEUR • BRAND BUILDER

By Jennifer Colosimo

After 30 years of building brands throughout Atlanta, Joe McGinnis knew Don Cosmé was different. It wasn't just another job—this was the opportunity he had been preparing for his entire career. Today as Don Cosmé's co-owner, he helps shape a heritage tequila brand with real character, real visual potential and real room to grow. And his Midtown hub is the perfect spot to do it.

What has surprised you most since joining this industry?

Joe McGinnis: This business runs on relationships. Spirits may live on the shelf, but brands are really built person to person — through trust, distributor partnerships, hospitality friendships and people willing to take a chance on something independent. That has reinforced something I already believed from the branding world: the best results come when you bring people into the story early.

MASTER DISTILLER CITLALI OVALLE WITH JOE MCGINNIS

THE JALISCO ESPRESSO MARTINI

Ingredients

- .25 ounces agave nectar
- 1 ounce espresso
- .5 ounces espresso liqueur
- .5 ounces amaro liqueur
- 1.5 ounces Don Cosmé Reposado
- Garnish: 3 espresso beans

Directions

Shake well with ice and strain into a chilled martini glass.

What inspires you most and why?

JM: I'm deeply inspired by Mexico's culture, artistry and symbolism — especially alebrijes and Día de los Muertos. There is so much beauty in the way storytelling, spirit, color and heritage come together.

How is Don Cosmé unique in the spirits market?

JM: Don Cosmé has roots dating back to 1907. Since the beginning, we've approached the brand with equal parts discipline and imagination. Our Flavor Dog labels — what we often call our Spirit Guides — were inspired by alebrijes, Día de los Muertos and a deep reverence for Mexico's culture and heritage. Each expression has its own distinct label, designed to reflect the flavor notes inside the bottle. It turns the bottle into both a work of art and a learning tool, which has become one of our most celebrated differentiators on the shelf.

Why do you love running this business from Midtown?

JM: Midtown gives us the sense of connection. This is a neighborhood built on the arts, diversity, hospitality and community. I have always hoped Atlanta would see Don Cosmé not simply as another bottle on the shelf, but as an Atlanta-led success story people could take pride in supporting. Five years in, I am deeply grateful for the restaurants, retailers and hospitality leaders who embraced our story early and helped give the brand real momentum.
